A Message from the DIRECTOR

Happy December! The Resource Connection Child Care Resource and Referral program is wrapping up the end of the year with some exciting events and activities. On December 2nd and December 9th, we are hosting a Parent Café which offers a great opportunity for parents to connect with other parents. During both events, we will be offering dinner, giveaways, and discussing a child development topic. For more information, the flyer is located in this newsletter. In addition, we are asking providers to help decorate the office windows for the holiday season with colorings of snowmen from the children in their program. Once the windows are full of coloring sheets, we will post pictures on the Resource and Referral website and social media sites. One last note, we received another shipment of Personal Protective Equipment for early learning providers. If you need any items, please give us a call.

Happy Holidays,

Sheri Noble

SAFE TOYS AND GIFTS MONTH

During December, participate in Safe Toys and Gifts Month. Since December is the biggest gift-giving month in the world, it's important to keep safety in mind as you're shopping for the little ones in your life.

According to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, 251,700 toy-related injuries were treated by hospital emergency rooms around the U.S. in 2010. Of those, 72% of them were people younger than 15. years old. A few years earlier, toymakers recalled over 19 million toys across the globe due to safety concerns like lead paint and small magnets. Since then, toy safety has improved, but shoppers can take precautions to keep children in their lives safe.

Buying toys and other gifts are one of the most exciting parts of the holiday season. I mean, who doesn’t love watching a friend or family member open a gift and seeing their eyes light up with excitement?! In all the eagerness, it’s easy to forget about simple safety. So before making any purchases this year, keep safety in mind, so the holidays don’t turn from the happiest time of the year to the scariest!

HOW TO OBSERVE #SafeToysAndGiftsMonth

Post on social media using #SafeToysAndGiftsMonth to spread the word and raise awareness this December. Here are some ways to be sure you’re shopping safely this year.

1. Make sure to inspect the toys before you buy them. Try to avoid toys with sharp edges, lots of little parts, or parts that can be easily pulled off. (Especially if it’s for a baby or toddler)

2. Make sure the age and skill level marked on the toy matches the age and skill level of the child you’re buying for.

3. Label check! Toys should have a label for ATSM (American Society for Testing and Materials) that proves it’s up to standard. ATSM testing is more important than many people realize.

4. Do not give toys with ropes, cords, or that can heat up, and avoid crayons and markers unless they are labeled nontoxic.

Follow this advice, and your whole family is sure to have a very merry (and injury-free) holiday season!

Care Provider Management Bureau (CPMB) Customer Service Updates and Background Check Information

PIN 21-22-CCLD provides updated guidance to individual background check applicants and agencies regarding background check information and updates for Customer Service options.
The Community Care Licensing Division (CCLD), Care Provider Management Bureau (CPMB) is providing updated information regarding customer service features related to the background check process. CPMB utilizes an automated system known as Guardian to process and manage background check applications. This new system was implemented in January 2021 and utilizing Guardian for background check application and management is encouraged.

GUARDIAN HELP

- Access to Guardian Portal
- Guardian Applicant Portal or Guardian Agency Portal
- Guardian Account Request/Login Support

To create a Guardian account as a licensee or organization, please submit a Guardian Licensee User Access Form. The Licensee User Access Form (LIC 9277LUA) has recently been updated and can be submitted to CPMB at GuardianLoginSupport@dss.ca.gov. Once the form is received, an “agency account” will be created and CPMB will issue a new user notification email with a temporary password and the link to the agency portal. The agency account holder should expect a response within seven (7) business days. By default, an agency will be opted-in to receive electronic notifications. An agency may opt out of certain notifications by updating their “My Account” profile.

CPMB CONTACT INFORMATION

CPMB is experiencing an extremely high call/email volume and is working to respond to inquiries in the most efficient manner possible. In an effort to provide improved customer service and reduce wait times, CPMB has increased staff dedicated to answering the phones from the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. Monday – Friday. This allows the Bureau to ensure adequate staff is available to provide assistance when call volumes are high. If you are unable to get your question answered after trying all self-service options, please send any inquiries related to background checks to Guardian@dss.ca.gov. For login support, Guardian navigation, or other technical questions related to Guardian, please email GuardianLoginSupport@dss.ca.gov and a CPMB representative will get back to you as soon as possible.

SELF-SERVICE FUNCTIONALITY IN GUARDIAN

Applicants and Agencies are encouraged to use the Guardian Portal for self-service options such as:

Application Processing - To help avoid delays on new applications, it is advised to begin every application in Guardian. When creating an application in Guardian, please include the following and verify its accuracy:

- Personal identifiable information.
- Out-of-State information. This is required for all applicants below who have lived Out-of-State within the last five years.
  - Foster Family Homes, Small Family Homes, Certified Family Homes, and Resource Families
  - Licensed Children’s Residential Facilities Eligible to Accept Placement of a Dependent Child
Utilization of the Live Scan form (LIC 9163) generated in the system when submitting fingerprints. This will ensure the fingerprint results match the correct application and facility number.

Status Checks - When checking application status in Guardian or the publicly available Background Check Search site, please refer to the definitions below to help assess where your application may be in the process:

- In Process – This means that the application has been submitted but is either awaiting Live Scan (fingerprint results) or is pending a background check review process. This review may include a California Child Abuse Central Index (CACI), Out-of-State child abuse check, or Administrative Action Records System (AARS) check and the application cannot be cleared until this process is complete. This may involve out-of-state child abuse and neglect registries, as applicable. These are often manual processes and are dependent upon other state or agency response times or pending receipt of fingerprint results from the DOJ.

- Eligible – The applicant has passed the background check and has received either a clearance or criminal record exemption.

- Not Eligible – The applicant is not eligible for a criminal record clearance or exemption and is not authorized to work or be present in a licensed facility/home/organization.

- Closed – The applicant did not complete the background check process and the application has been closed.

- Not Yet Submitted – This means that the application is not complete, and further action is needed from the Agency and/or applicant. For example, this status will appear if the agency number was not entered to associate the applicant to the appropriate facility/organization, as applicable. Incomplete applications can be resolved by accessing the Guardian Portal on the CPMB Website.

CPMB BACKGROUND CHECK PROCESS

Health & Safety Code sections 1522, 1568.09, 1569.17, and 1596.871 mandate CDSS to conduct a criminal record review of all individuals applying for licensure, prospective facility staff, and other specified individuals. It is important to note that it may take up to 14 days for CDSS to receive criminal record information from the Department of Justice (DOJ) after conducting the LiveScan. Please refer to the descriptions below to better understand processing timeframes during the background check process.

1. No Exemption or Investigation Needed: An applicant should clear within days of CDSS receiving information from DOJ under the following circumstances:
   - No criminal history.
   - No match in the Child Abuse Central Index (CACI) (if applicable).
   - No match to the Administrative Action Records System (AARS).
   - An applicant has not lived outside of California within the last five years or is not subject to out-of-state child abuse and neglect registry checks.

2. Simplified Exemption Criteria: An applicant may be granted an exemption without investigation of the underlying circumstances of the offense(s) (see Standard Exemption below) under the following circumstances:
   - The applicant’s conviction(s) are from a single incident of criminal conduct (i.e., one arrest).
• The individual does not have a demonstrated pattern of criminal activity.
• Each conviction is a misdemeanor and is for a crime that is non-violent and does not pose a risk of harm to an individual. • It has been at least five years since the date of conviction.

3. RFA Simplified Exemption Criteria: An RFA applicant may be granted an exemption without investigation of the underlying circumstances of the offense(s) (see Standard Exemption below) under the following circumstances:
• Any exemptible felony conviction(s) on the RAP occurred over 7 years ago; effective January 1, 2022, this will change to 5 years,
• Any exemptible misdemeanor conviction(s) occurred over 5 years ago; effective January 1, 2022, this will change to 3 years,

Note: Notwithstanding the fact that an applicant meets the simplified exemption criteria, the standard exemption process may be required as necessary, on a case-by-case basis, to protect the health and safety of a child or any client. Notwithstanding the fact that an applicant meets the simplified exemption criteria, a criminal record exemption shall not be granted until after any other required investigation is completed, (e.g. any CACI or Arrest-Only Investigation) that may be required based on the information contained in the RAP.

4. Standard Exemption Needed: An applicant should expect longer processing times when CDSS receives criminal record information that requires the standard exemption process. The standard exemption process requires applicants to provide information related to prior convictions. In these circumstances, the case cannot be processed until the requested information is received. The following steps must be completed in order to make a determination on a standard exemption request:
• The applicant and agency (if applicable) will be notified that a standard exemption is needed. The notification will request documentation regarding each conviction and character references. The applicant and/or agency will have 45 days to submit this information.
• CPMB will review all relevant documents received surrounding any criminal history to make a determination. Please be advised that this may take considerable time as CPMB is dependent on receiving information from outside agencies.
• Once all documentation is received, CPMB can make a determination.
• If an exemption request is denied, the applicant and/or agency will be provided with an opportunity to appeal the decision.

5. Arrest-Only Investigation: An applicant should expect longer processing times when CDSS receives criminal record information that requires an arrest-only investigation. A case must follow the arrest-only process when criminal record information indicates an individual has been arrested (but has not been convicted) for a referable arrest at the time of application. The following steps must be completed to make a determination on an arrest only case:
• The applicant will receive a letter notifying that an arrest-only investigation is required, and requests documentation regarding the arrest be sent to CPMB within 15 days.
• CPMB reviews all relevant documents received surrounding the referable arrest to make a determination. Please be advised that this may take considerable time as CPMB is dependent on outside agencies.

- Once all documentation is received, the case will be reviewed, and the applicant will be notified of a decision and the appropriate next steps.

6. Non-Exemptible Crimes: The Department is prohibited by law from granting exemptions to individuals convicted of certain crimes (non-exemptible crimes). Currently, there are approximately 60 non-exemptible crimes, including but not limited to murder, rape, torture, kidnapping, and crimes for which an individual is required to register as a sex offender. An individual who has been convicted of a non-exemptible crime cannot be granted a criminal record exemption and will be provided with notice of that fact and an opportunity to appeal the Department's decision.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT FOR 2022
“HOMELESS POINT IN TIME” COUNT
Amador County
January 26, 2022

Let’s Make Everyone Count!

This annual count helps member agencies of the Amador County Homeless Task Force to strategically address the housing and service needs of individuals and families who are homeless or at risk for homelessness. The process helps to ensure annual funding to our community that provides crucial housing and supportive services for this vulnerable population, benefiting the community. The numbers collected drastically affect the amount of funding provided.

To make the PIT Count as accurate as possible, teams will span out across Amador County, to count and survey homeless who sleep outdoors, in parks, alleys, under bridges, or in places not meant for human habitation, such as cars, abandoned buildings, garages or other structures without electricity or running water.

The process of surveying helps to identify local trends among the homeless population such as families with children, unaccompanied youth, the chronically homeless, and veterans; and helps identify the magnitude of challenges such as drug use or mental/physical health issues.

Each PIT worker (18 & over) is asked to attend a two-hour training session which will be offered several times in January (dates, times, and locations to be announced) with varying time slots for convenience. A stipend will be given to volunteers helping with the count.

Please contact Lesley Mace (209) 253-9215 mace@atcap.org if you are interested in volunteering.
