School Bus Safety Month is observed in the United States during the month of October. This annual observance is dedicated to raising awareness about the importance of school bus safety and educating students, parents, and the community about safe practices when it comes to school transportation.

During School Bus Safety Month, various activities and initiatives may take place, including:

- Safety Education: Schools, school districts, and local communities often organize educational programs and events to teach students and parents about the importance of following safety rules on and around school buses.
- Public Awareness Campaigns: Local authorities and organizations may run public awareness campaigns to remind drivers to stop for school buses when the stop arm is extended and the red lights are flashing.
- Community Engagement: Schools and communities may engage in activities such as poster contests, safety-themed art projects, or essay competitions to involve students in promoting school bus safety.
- Parental Involvement: Parents are encouraged to discuss school bus safety with their children and reinforce the importance of following safety rules when riding the bus.

One last note, during the month of October many families celebrate Halloween, Halloween is a fun and exciting holiday, but it's also important to prioritize safety, especially for children and families. If you are looking for some Halloween safety tips, please reach out to the office at 209-754-1075 for some ideas.

Buses Safest Transportation for School Children

Lap and Shoulder Belts Make Them Even Safer

Some 25 million students nationwide begin and end their day with a trip on a school bus. Designed for safety, with flashing lights, giant mirrors, stop-sign arms, and that bright yellow color, students are far more likely to get to school safely when taking a school bus than traveling by car, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

School buses are designed to protect students through compartmentalization – closely spaced seats and high, energy-absorbing seat backs. Seat belts protect students, too.

In 2015, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration stated its support for lap and shoulder belts on buses, and NSC has joined in support of this position to ensure the

Tips for a Safe Ride

School buses are the safest way for students to travel. Nearly two-thirds of school busrelated fatalities of school-age children occur outside of the school bus. Children need to do their part to stay safe both in and around school buses:

At the Bus Stop:

? Arrive early at the bus stop – at least five minutes before the bus is scheduled to arrive? Stand 6 feet (or three giant steps) away from the curb while waiting for the bus? Supervise young children

Around the Bus:

? Cross in front of the bus – at least 10 feet (or five giant steps) – and make eye contact with the driver before crossing

? Never walk behind the bus

? If you drop something near the bus, do not pick it up; tell the bus driver instead

Getting On/Off the Bus:

? Wait until the bus has stopped and the door opens before approaching the bus or standing up on the bus

? Use the handrail

? Secure any loose or hanging objects like straps on a backpack or drawstrings on a hood

Behavior on the Bus:

- ? Buckle up if seat belts are available
- ? Stay in your seat keeping head, arms, and papers inside the bus, and talk quietly
- ? Keep aisles clear of books and bags

About

The Friends, Family, and Neighbor (FFN) program is a Child Care Resource and Referral initiative aimed at supporting caregivers who provide care for children in their own homes. The program provides resources, training, and guidance to FFN caregivers to help them provide quality care and education to the children in their care. Through the FFN program, caregivers can access a range of services, including referrals to community resources, training and workshops, and support networks. This program recognizes the important role that informal caregivers play in the lives of children and provides them with the tools and resources they need to provide safe, nurturing, and stimulating environments for the children in their care.

FFNs build stable foundations for young children, and are an irreplaceable and essential part of the mixed delivery child care system.

Lucky for you, we're here with a brand-new batch of Halloween costumes for kids that you can put together at home (forget the store-bought costumes—these are so much cuter). Trust us, you haven't seen these ideas all over the internet, so you're sure to be the star of the costume contest.

We've got everything from baby Halloween costumes to toddler Halloween costumes and even the best tween Halloween costumes. Of course, You can always buy a costume if you run out of time, but if you want to go the homemade route this Halloween, we just know you'll find a sweet look in this collection for your favorite little trick-or-treaters. Here are 99 spooktacularly easy homemade kids' Halloween costume ideas to try this year, from Care Bears to cowboys and more!

Firefly Costume

This simple idea makes a big impact on Halloween night. Start with a neon green dress. Add an antennae headband and a pair of black wings. Secure a clip-on white safety light to the wings so that the firefly "glows" throughout the evening. Pair with a classic neon green jack-o-lantern trick-or-treat pail.

Duck Pond Costume

This one's so easy! Start with a solid yellow shirt and a pair of jeans. Coat a plastic plant saucer (ours is 13 inches; size up as needed) with blue spray- paint. Secure rubber ducks to the saucer with Velcro. Add a "Duck Pond" sign to the "pond," then hang it around the neck using grosgrain ribbon. (You can secure the ribbon to the pool with duct tape or drill holes.) Hot-glue a rubber duck to a blue headband.

Note: This costume idea can also be repurposed for a pet; simply secure the duck pond with Velcro to the back of a yellow pet raincoat.

S'Mores Fairy Costume

Is there such a thing? There is now! Start with a white dress. (Tip: Seek out used flower girl dresses on eBay or Facebook Marketplace.) Add a band of tan velvet ribbon and a DIY cardboard or felt "graham cracker" at the waist. Add brown felt "chocolate bars" to the shoes. Find a stick from the yard and add a marshmallow for the fairy wand. Cut out wings from cardboard; add grahamcracker like dots and dotted-line (perforations) using a dark brown marker. Construct a complete "s'more" with felt; secure to headband with thread or hotglue. Pair costume with a vintage Campfire Marshmallows tin repurposed as a trick-or-treating bucket.

Corn Dog Concessionnaire

Come and get yer corn dogs! Start with an open-topped cardboard box (ours is 9 by 18 inches), such as a store display or produce box. (There are plenty to be found on Amazon, but most are sold in bulk.) Spray-paint box white, then use red one-inch painter's tape to create stripes. Add a band of wide yellow rickrack and the words "Corn Dogs" across the front. Fill box with striped food sleeves and corn dogs made from felt. Add a mustard and ketchup bottle. Pair with a red apron, white shirt, paper hat, and your strongest salesman's voice.

Flower Pot Costume

Start with a light blue t-shirt, light blue leggings, and a plastic plant pot from the hardware store (a 17-inch pot with a 12-inch-wide bottom was roomy enough to accommodate our 6-year-old model). Use a mini hand-saw to cut out the bottom of the pot. Drill four holes (two in the front, two in the back) to accommodate grosgrain ribbon "straps" that will make the pot wearable. Fill with faux hydrangea blooms, securing stems to pot interior with duct tape. (Note: It's best to do this once the child is wearing the costume.) Cut off a single bloom to secure to a blue headband with hot glue. Pair costume with a galvanized flower stem bucket or watering can, either of which can be used for collecting candy.

🛱 Water

Though the exact number is unknown, millions of pipes made with lead, called lead service lines, carry drinking water to residences. Fixtures and solder used in homes and other buildings, such as schools, can also be a source of contamination.

🗟 Lead paint hazards

Peeling and cracking paint creates flakes and dust in homes, schools, and child care facilities, where it can be ingested by children, and deteriorating exterior paint on buildings can contaminate soil.

Consumer products and food

Lead paint is still used commercially for some hobbies and in consumer products such as adult novelty jewelry. Certain foods, spices, health remedies, and candies contain trace amounts of lead, as do some progressive hair dyes.

📇 Air emissions

Fuel used by smaller aircraft releases lead into the air and the environment. Smelting—the process for extracting lead from batteries and electronic devices can cause widespread contamination of air, soil, and groundwater in surrounding communities.
